ERIS PAUL IS DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS AT UA... The University of Alabama's National Alumni Association elected and presented four top awards at the annual Alumni Weekend activities on campus April 8, and named Distinguished Alumnus as Eris Freeman Paul of Elba. A trustee emeritus of UA, Paul is a graduate of the UA School of Law and a former circuit judge for the 12th Judicial Circuit of Alabama. The Distinguished Alumni Awards honor service to the University, character and personal life, professional achievement or success in chosen endeavors and community service. ## Gas tax hits dead end at Capitol

Stating simply that "The people didn't want it," Coffee County Representative Jimmy Holley announced last week that he would not introduce legislation that would have authorized the Coffee County Commission to levy up to a five-cent per gallon tax on gasoline and diesel fuel sold in the county.

"I don't think the gasoline tax had the support of the people of Coffee County," stated Holley, "and to put it simple - they didn't want it!"

"I don't believe the commission put a lot of planning into the tax increase proposal," added Holley. "It is obvious that the county engineer did a very good job in his presentation and convinced the commission that additional revenue was needed to complete a project of bridge repairs and road resurfacing. I live on a county road and don't doubt the need for work on many of the county roads; however, I'm not convinced of the need for additional taxes and the people in the county weren't supportive of the tax."

"I talked with Sen. Crum Foshee after being notified of the commission's resolution and we agreed that the people didn't want the tax," said Holley. "I gave the matter much thought and came to the conclusion that I could not support the tax and would not introduce the legislation."

Alleged mishandling of funds prompts meeting with auditors in New Brockton

The New Brockton City Council met on Monday night, April 17, in front of a standing room only crowd at City Hall and held a lengthy discussion concerning reports of missing city funds.

Councilman Britt Lee told the council that a state audit was needed as soon as possible to settle the issue of possible missing funds and declared "The people deserve to know what is going on."

City Attorney Kenneth Fuller reported that a shortage of $3,500 was discovered following an audit of funds by the Southeast Alabama Regional Council on Aging and that as a result of the audit the city was notified and the city turned the matter over to the city attorney.

Fuller added that the shortage was investigated and after the funds in question were replaced by a former city clerk, the audit was accepted.

Water & Electric Board passes cost of valve installation to customers

The Water and Electric Board of the City of Elba spent over an hour discussing a required cross-connect policy for the water department.

Concern was expressed over the cost to water users for this ADEM mandated check valve to prevent back flow of possibly contaminated water from a home or business into the public water system.

Board members expressed concern that homeowners on a fixed income would have a hard time paying the $50 to $60 estimated cost of installing these valves. The suggested policy requiring valves on all water users was approved by the board after postponing a decision on when the deadline would be set.

Bills totaling $10,540.41 were approved for payment. An old resolution concerning transfer of money from the utility to the city or school was amended to add board control to any potential transfer.

The resolution as first passed several years ago on the recommendation of auditors had simply stated that any transfer would "be considered as grants unless otherwise specified." It was approved to satisfy requirements from bond holders. This resolution had been interpreted by some in the past to mean the board didn't have to be consulted to make transfers of cash from the utility to the city or school.

Previously this had been discussed by the board members and they expressed opinions that the resolution should be written differently to more clearly express the legal intentions of the board.

The addition reads "That all non-routine transfers from the Water and Electric Board to the City of Elba shall only be made after expressed approval of the Water and Electric Board at a duly held meeting."

The net income from the utility continues to show an increase with the electric, water and rural water divisions reflecting cuts in operating expenses sufficient to increase profits by almost $20,000 over the same period last year. However this was partially offset by a $7,000 increase in maintaining the sewer pumping system.

The increase reflects the contract cost of rebuilding some sewer pumping stations last fall.

Councilman Ralph Medley, who was serving as Mayor Pro-Tem at the meeting in the absence of Mayor Jim Driskell, stated "When the shortage was discovered it was taken care of and when the failure to make the payments was discovered it was taken care of. The payments have been kept quiet, but there was no cover up!"

"Things may have been kept quiet, but there was no cover up!"

Councilman Ralph Medley said the city attorney suggested that the council meet with the city auditors and ask questions concerning why the most recent audit failed to reveal the failure to make the FICA payments.

Councilman Charles Cole then made a motion, which passed, that the council meet with the auditors at the next regular meeting and if the auditors' report wasn't acceptable to all members, a state audit be conducted.

Councilman Layman Tindell told the council that police officer Jerry Gilbert was now at the police academy in Selma and that city policy stated the officer would receive his regular pay for 40-hours work, would be paid twenty-cents per mile for travel to the academy and back (once), would be paid $30 for meals on the weekends and would be reimbursed for weekend lodging if lodging was not available at the academy.

Councilman Cole questioned why the officer had been sent to the academy in Selma when there was no charge to attend the Montgomery

Congressional office open in county

Beginning this month, a Second Congressional District branch office will be open in Enterprise one day a month to directly serve the public.

In making the announcement last week, Cong. Earl Dickinson stated "The branch office will provide Enterprise-area residents with more convenient access to constituent services currently offered through my Montgomery, Dothan, Opp and Washington offices. Many residents who have problems with the federal government and need help prefer to walk into my offices and talk one-on-one with my staff."

A representative will now be available to meet directly with these constituents in Enterprise to discuss their problems and concerns, such as Social Security benefits, military and VA matters and other issues related to the federal government.

Staff assistant Lorrie Warren will be manning the Enterprise office beginning Wednesday, April 19, between the hours of 1:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. The office will be open the third Wednesday of each month in the council chambers in the City Hall building.

Unemployment rate remains low

The Alabama Department of Industrial Relations released its Rabid fox killed in Highland Dr. area of Elba

Elba Police Chief Freddie Hanchey reported this week that a rabid fox had been killed at a residence on Highland Drive.

A rabid raccoon was killed recently in the same area of the city and Chief Hanchey stated that a cat suspected of being rabid is now being tested at the state lab. The cat was discovered at a residence on Taylor Mill Road, which is near the area where the two confirmed cases were found.

Anyone having pets is encouraged to have their animals vaccinated as soon as possible due to the outbreak.

Monthly labor market news recently revealed that during the month of February the unemployment rate in Coffee County declined over one percentage point to 6.2 percent.

According to the report, Coffee County's unemployment rate stood at 7.3 percent in January, 1989 and 6.3 percent in February of 1988.

Following are unemployment rates of surrounding counties:

Butler 11.6
Conecuh 11.3
Covington 8.3
Crenshaw 7.0
Dale 8.2
Geneva 5.5

Spurlin - Farris Wedding

The wedding vows of Judy Spurlin and Mike Farris were solemnized Friday evening, Feb. 24, 1989, at six thirty in the evening at Basin Baptist Church.

The Rev. Don Polston performed the impressive double-ring ceremony in the presence of a host of friends and relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donaldson and the late William Manord of Elba.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Farris of Basin Community.

The walkways leading to the steps of the church were marked with white bows. The handrails were wrapped with greenery with large red bows at each end.

Large white bows adorned the front doors of the sanctuary.

Mrs. Ann Farris, sister-in-law of the groom, registered guests as they entered the sanctuary.

The registry table, covered with a red Chantilly lace cloth with a white satin underlay, held a two-tiered hurricane globe with red burning pillar candles with flowers.

Guests registered in a beautifully bound bride's book with a white plumbed pen. Each guest was given a scroll encircled with a wedding band containing a message from the bride and groom.

Vows were exchanged before the altar, the beauty of which was enhanced by the pale glow of candlelight from a 15-branched arched candelabra with long burning tapers accented with greenery and a massive red ribbon.

In front of the candelabra was a large silk floral arrangement, and on each side of the altar were two other silk floral arrangements. Pots of Boston ferns completed the background.

The stained glass windows held long burning tapers surrounded by silk flowers.

A three-branch unity candle, in front of the first pew, was accented with greenery and silk flowers. The bride and groom took the two candles lit by their mothers and lit their own candle.

Ushers and candlelighters were Randall Gray of Dothan, brother-in-law of the bride, and Max Farris of Basin, brother of the groom.

Family pews were marked with small bouquets of red and white silk flowers tied with red satin ribbons.

A lovely selection of pre-nuptial music was rendered by Pam Windham, pianist, accompanied by Sam Cooper. The ceremony began with the music of "Evergreen" by Pam Windham. Sam Cooper sang "Truly, and Pam and Sam presented a duet of "The Rose."

After lighting the unity candle, Sam sang "The Lord's Prayer." Wedding attendants entered the church to the music of "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, which changed to the traditional wedding march as the bride entered the church.

While being escorted down the aisle, the bride passed to present her mother with a long-stemmed red rose accented with baby's breath, a red ribbon bow and knotted streamers.

At the conclusion of the ceremony she presented an identical rose to the groom's mother.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was escorted to the altar by her brother Ricky Mack.

The bride was radiant in a formal gown of candlelight bridal satin which featured re-embroidered French alencon lace over the bodice and edge of the puffed short sleeves.

The re-embroidered lace was graced with seed pearls and sprinkled with iridescents, which shimmered in the glow of the candlelight.

The low-cut, off-the-shoulder neckline with embroidered lace was accented with pearls also.

The full skirt fell from a V-waistline to floor length and swept into a cathedral-length train encircled with pearls and ribbons.

The bride wore a chapel-length veil of silk illusion with re-embroidered appliques, seed pearls and iridescents. It fell from the wreath-shaped headpiece of ivory silk flowers and baby's breath, which had been made by her mother-in-law.

To complete her ensemble, the bride carried a flowing cascade of silk red and ivory roses, apple blossoms and baby's breath, accented with sprays of pearl. Her bouquet was sent by the groom's sister, Deborah Vaughn of Novato, Calif.

To carry out the tradition of something old and borrowed, the bride used the ring pillow from the wedding of the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ann Farris; something blue was the blue garter handmade especially for her; and the new was a new strand of pearls given her by the groom.

Mrs. Bobbie Gray of Dothan, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Jana Spurlin, daughter of the bride, and Denise

Mr. &amp; Mrs. Mike Farris

Farris, daughter of the groom.

The attendants wore floor-length matching gowns of red satin with an overlay of silk of red silk illusion, the bottom scalloped and tied with small white bows.

The groom was handsomely dressed in a black tuxedo with tails, ivory shirt with wing-tip collar, a red satin cummerbund and red bow tie. He wore a boutonniere of a red rose and baby's breath.

James Farris, father of the groom, served his son as best man. Groomsman were Randall Gray of Dothan, brother-in-law of the bride, and Max Farris of Basin, brother of the groom.

The punch was made in the bride's color of red, with the silver punch bowl surrounded with greenery and red and white silk flowers.

Mrs. Ann Farris, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Bobbie Gray of Dothan, sister of the bride, served the punch.

Centerpiece for the buffet table was a large arrangement of red and white silk carnations, apple blossoms and Tiger lilies with a wooden candelabra holding five burning tapers surrounded by silk flowers on each side of the centerpiece.

Silver trays held cheese balls, cocktail sausages, rolled ham, angel biscuits with sausage, chicken salad and pimiento cheese sandwiches.

A vegetable tray contained assorted vegetables and dip, and a fresh fruit tray offered a fresh pineapple standing in the center with orange slices, red and green grapes, cantaloupe, honey dew, strawberries; another tray held fresh strawberries dipped in white chocolate.

A small table covered with the bride's color held the rice tree with bags of rice tied on the tree with a basket of rice bags on the table for guests.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Kristi Mack of Kingston.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside at Rt. 4, Elba.

Arrangements of Boston fern were used throughout the room. Clusters of honeysuckle tissue wedding bells with red bows and white streamers decorated the walls and dangled from the ceiling.

The bride's table was covered with red Chantilly lace with white lining and white bows picking up the red lace at each end.

Centerpiece for the table was the three-tiered wedding cake decorated with red roses, over a red water fountain. The top tier held a white heart with red roses, with a bride and groom standing in front.

Silver compotes held nuts and mints.

A silver candelabra holding three white burning tapers highlighted one end of the table, and the bride's bouquet also accented the table.

The bride's cake was served by Mrs. Linda Prater and Miss Lisa Prater of Enterprise.

The groom's table was covered with an ivory lace cloth with a chocolate underlay skirt. At one end of the table was a brass candelabra holding three ivory burning tapers.

A cheese ball with crackers was served in a brass tray with mints and roasted nuts in brass compotes.

At the other side of the table was the traditional chocolate groom's cake topped with a fisherman fishing off a bridge.

Mrs. Opal Hatcher of Basin and Mrs. Donna Phillips of Opp served the groom's cake.

The punch was made in the bride's color of red, with the silver punch bowl surrounded with greenery and red and white silk flowers.

Mrs. Ann Farris, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Bobbie Gray of Dothan, sister of the bride, served the punch.

Centerpiece for the buffet table was a large arrangement of red and white silk carnations, apple blossoms and Tiger lilies with a wooden candelabra holding five burning tapers surrounded by silk flowers on each side of the centerpiece.

Silver trays held cheese balls, cocktail sausages, rolled ham, angel biscuits with sausage, chicken salad and pimiento cheese sandwiches.

A vegetable tray contained assorted vegetables and dip, and a fresh fruit tray offered a fresh pineapple standing in the center with orange slices, red and green grapes, cantaloupe, honey dew, strawberries; another tray held fresh strawberries dipped in white chocolate.

A small table covered with the bride's color held the rice tree with bags of rice tied on the tree with a basket of rice bags on the table for guests.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Kristi Mack of Kingston.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside at Rt. 4, Elba.

Arrangements of Boston fern were used throughout the room. Clusters of honeysuckle tissue wedding bells with red bows and white streamers decorated the walls and dangled from the ceiling.

The bride's table was covered with red Chantilly lace with a white undershirt and white bows picking up the red lace at each end of the table.

Centerpiece for the table was the three-tiered wedding cake decorated with red roses, over a red water fountain. The top tier held a white heart with red roses, with a bride and groom standing in front.

Silver compotes held nuts and mints.

A silver candelabra holding three white burning tapers highlighted one end of the table, and the bride's bouquet also accented the table.

Members Of Quill & Scroll Initiated At Zion Chapel

By Jackie Herbert
Quill and Scroll is an international honor society for outstanding high school journalists. It was founded at the University of Iowa April 10, 1926, by a group of journalism teachers.
On Sept. 26, 1988, after the board of trustees of Quill and Scroll examined copies of Zion Chapel's yearbook, Rebel, and newspaper, The Rebel News, they granted a charter to the high school to establish a chapter.
To become a member of the society a student must meet five qualifications: he or she must be a junior or senior; must be scholastically in the upper third of the class; must have done superior work in some phase of high school journalism; must be recommended for membership by the advisor of journalistic work in the high school or by the committee governing publications; and must be approved as being worthy of membership by the society's executive officer.
Twelve students from Zion Chapel met all the necessary requirements and were inducted into Quill and Scroll by chapter sponsor Rachel Bryan. The students are Dana Dean, Pam Franklin, Tia Gatlin, Stephanie Goodson, Jackie Herbert, Lisa Holcomb, David Jackson, Rhonda Jackson, Kenneth Marler, Gayle Pyfrom, Todd Rugg, and Donna Parker.

Mrs. Bryan presented the students with framed membership certificates. The students also were given a Quill and Scroll newspaper pin and yearbook pin. They were told as they received these items that the quill should represent the meticulous care which must be put forth to turn thoughts into proper language and that the scroll should represent the permanent quality of good writing.
When Mrs. Bryan was asked about her efforts in getting the charter of Quill and Scroll for Zion Chapel, she said, "I have been the sponsor of Zion Chapel's Rebel for the past 16 years and as the sponsor of The Rebel News for most of that time. For many years I have wanted to start a chapter of Quill and Scroll at Zion Chapel to honor the talented young journalists who work on Zion Chapel's publications. Thanks to Mr. Nelson Whitehurst and Mr. Clayton Bryan we were able to start the chapter this year."

STAFF WORKS TO MEET DEADLINE

By Randy Flowers
"All work and no play makes John a dull boy." If this statement is true then the Rebel 89 staff has been extremely dull lately as they prepare to meet upcoming deadlines. While state tests are being given the first three hours of school, the Rebel 89 staff meets in the classroom of their sponsor, Mrs. Rachel Bryan. The class is divided into categories that include sports, band and music, features, classes, and organizations. Each group had to draw layouts for their division, write and fit body copy and captions.
After the layout and copy had been approved by Mrs. Bryan, the layouts had to be finalized. Each group was required to have three layouts finalized by Friday, April 14. Each group is graded as a group rather than individually. "The outcome of this year's yearbook," said Mrs. Bryan, "will be determined by the dedication and hard work the staff puts into it."

Justin Lowery Is Named "Mr T-Day" At Troy State

By Tobl Lowry and David Jackson

Kindergarten Justin Lowry has recently been the center of attention at various social functions. He attended an Easter egg hunt at the Governor's Mansion, and at the hunt found several small chocolate eggs. He also had the chance to meet Mr. Hunt.
The next day Justin was named "Mr. T-Day," as part of Troy State University's spring Red and White game. He was presented a "Mr. T-Day" crown, an autographed game ball, cap, and an official Troy State jersey.
Justin also received from the city of Prattville a document naming him "Mr. T-Day" and the key to the city of Prattville.
During his visit he met the mayor of Prattville, newly elected Congressman Glen Browder, Troy State's head coach Rhett Maddox, and assistant coach Mike O'Toole.

A birthday party was held for Justin.

Art Lessons Are Well Received By Students

By Gayle Pyfrom

If you happened to walk into the elementary building last week or had a free minute to browse in the high school hall, you surely would have noticed a little something different.
Literally hundreds of pictures made by elementary students decorated the elementary school walls, and at least 20 original works by ZC students hung in the high school hall by the library.
The pictures were, of course, the results of the art classes taken under Mr. John Stringfellow during the past four weeks.
All students grades K-6 took the classes, and interested high school students were given the chance to take a class once a week for four weeks.
"I learned a lot of things that I (previously) thought didn't have a lot to do with art," said Marie Jackson, one of the art students.
Marie also said she particularly enjoyed learning about perspective drawing, which was the subject of one lesson.
The art student's three other lessons included a study on the human figure, during which the students had to draw the instructor in just two minutes.
Another exercise involved pulling a slip of paper from a bag and drawing the assignment given on the paper. This exercise was designed to teach students how to mix colors. Such nonsense phrases as "spitting scarlet snakes," "round red roosters," and "Fred frog fries" were included in the selections.
For the last session high schoolers viewed the work of elementary students and made a joint critique on their work. Interesting and entertaining was Arlene Priggen's opinion of this exercise.
In general, the students really enjoyed the classes, and wished there could have been more of them.
Cade Shiver said, "He gave me a lot of new ideas."

"I've experienced an interest in various viewpoints due to . . . Mr. Stringfellow's art work. It has encouraged me to endeavor . . . variations in art," was the comment made by Shelia Acernan.
Mr. Stringfellow also sponsored a local art contest here at Zion Chapel. Many of the entries were entered in the Piney Woods Arts Festival at Enterprise State Junior College.

REBEL BRIEFS

DRUG ABUSE INFORMATION RECEIVED

By Tate Gatlin
Mr. Nelson Whitehurst, principal at Zion Chapel High School, handed out information from the office of the attorney general on drug abuse. The letter presented three facts which confront every family in America: (1) Alcohol-related traffic accidents are the number one cause of deaths among teenagers; (2) Marijuana is the second most commonly used drug among students; and (3) Cocaine is the most widely used drug among teenagers.

The letter also warned the parents of symptoms of drug abuse so they can recognize problems before it is too late. Signs which may indicate substance abuse are a sudden drop in grades, loss of motivation, missing school regularly, an unhealthy appearance, trouble with school authorities and police, being secretive about activities outside the home, and having more money than you know they should.
There are several things that parents can do to reduce the risk of their children becoming involved in drugs: 1. Be there for your children and pay attention to them when they are present; 2. Know their friends and where they are at all times; 3. Keep the lines of communication open; 4. Strengthen family bonds and activities; 5. Help your children learn to resist peer pressure; 6. Have a strong family policy against drugs.
The letter emphasizes that parents should be concerned, become educated about alcohol and other drugs, and most of all, take action if a drug problem exists.

"PUTTIN' ON THE HITS"

By Melissa Johnson

Did you know that the Judds and Hank Williams Jr. were at Zion Chapel? If you were at the performance of "Puttin' on the Hits" during the 1989 band day, you could have gotten their autograph. The day's activities began with band members decorating the gym for the night's performance. Other band members worked in the lunchroom getting the barbecue plates ready for distribution.

First place winners were Jeff Hussey, David Jackson, Stuart Nelson, and Pat Sanders. They sang "old time rock and roll." David Jackson played the guitar, Pat Sanders was on the drums while Stuart Nelson alternated between keyboard and saxophone and Jeff Hussey was lead singer. Kecia Griffin, Tawana Neal, Tashawn Neal, and Shae Flowers were first runners-up. They sang "Let's Get it Started." Stephanie Brooks and Laura Brown were second runners-up. They sang "Radio Romance."

ARE WAVES TRANSVERSE OR LONGITUDINAL?

By Rhonda Jackson

Was that wave transverse or longitudinal? They were not ocean waves but radio, sound, water, and light waves.
Mrs. Anita Grant's physics class is studying the two methods of energy transfer in waves. The first method involves the transfer of matter such as electrons moving through a wire; these can transfer energy from one place to another. The second method involves wave motion, sound waves, light waves, radio waves, and water waves.

To let students visualize wave motions, which are invisible, Mrs. Grant held a demonstration. A Slinky and tight-coil spring were used in the demonstration. Two people held the Slinky so that it was stretched loosely and then began making an up-and-down motion at both ends causing a transverse wave. A transverse wave causes the particles of a medium to vibrate perpendicularly to the direction of the wave itself.

The next demonstration used the tight-coil spring. Two students held the coil spring so that it was not stretched out. Then one student pulled up some of the coil tightly and released it, causing a longitudinal wave, which causes the particles of a medium to move parallel to the direction of the wave.

ZC SPORTS NOTES

NEW PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT

By Melissa Stephens
The elementary school is improving the condition of its playground by purchasing new equipment. At a recent PTO meeting, the organization voted to purchase a new swing set. The swings have already arrived and have been assembled by Coach Tom Walker. The Coffee County Board of Education also purchased new climb-up bars and see-saws for the playground. These have not yet arrived.

ZC HAS GIRLS' SOFTBALL

By Stuart Nelson
The Zion Chapel girls' softball team started its year with 14 players. Their first game was against the Brantley Bulldogs. The star of Zion Chapel's team was the pitcher, Sharon Rodgers, who threw several strike-outs and walked only one player. One of the highlights of the afternoon was when Denise Flowers, left-fielder, hit a double to bring in three runs. Even though Zion Chapel put up a good fight, they lost by a disappointing score of 11-10.

ZC BASEBALL UNDERWAY

By Jeff Hussey
Zion Chapel began a double-header last week with a disappointing 3-0 loss to the Goshen Eagles. The Eagles got on the scoreboard early on singles and doubles to deep center field. The Rebels couldn't keep the balls out of the air, and the Eagles went on to win it 3-0. Brent Little struck out nine batters for the Rebels.
The second game of the double-header pitted the Rebels against the Elba Tigers J.V. The age advantage of the Rebels could not overcome the experience of the Tigers, most of whom have been playing baseball since their elementary years. The experience of the Rebels showed as they were beaten 2-0. The Rebels experimented with pitchers near the end of the game, and it started working as the Rebels slowed down the rapid scoring of the Tigers. The effort, though valiant, was too little too late as the Tigers cruised to a 22-0 win.

SPORTS QUEEN PAGEANT SET FOR APRIL 21

The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Editor

The 136th annual Brunson Reunion was held Sunday and once again this year the local Mularz clan became "Brunsons for a day" as all four of us went and mixed with the hundreds of people there. I began going years ago to make pictures for the paper and while I still make pictures, I'm now more than just another photographer. Just ask my six-year-old who went to her seventh reunion!

ELBA TIGER BASEBALLERS UNDO BACK

The Elba Tigers were scratching their heads wondering just what was happening a couple of weeks ago after a double-header loss to Area 3 (see Rehoboth); however, the players must have figured it out last week as they pounded Luverne in a must-win Area 3 battle and then romped past Brantley to claim their third straight win.

The win over Luverne was crucial, because the Tigers were 1-2 in Area 3 action and to go 1-3 could have spelled the end as far as post-season play was concerned. Not only did the Tigers post the win, but they did so with authority as they bunted the home team in six innings and all but knocked the cover off the ball. The win over Brantley, in Brantley, may not look real impressive when you stop and realize the Bulldogs are a 2A club, but to win on the road is never easy and Brantley has already earned a spot in the 2A playoffs.

Elba now stands at 5-6 for the year, which is a little disappointing, but the Tigers showed last week that can be a very good team when they want to and for one thing the Tigers can go a long way in the state tourney if they can make the 32-team field!

NEW BROCKTON WRAPS UP SPRING DRILLS

The New Brockton Gamecocks closed out spring football practice last week and Gamecock followers are very optimistic that next year's team may be as good as the '88 squad that made it all the way to the 2A finals. The Gamecocks have such standouts back as Todd Boland, Matt Rodgers and Robert Kilow, and if the new players can come around fast...watch out, the Gamecocks may be fighting for yet another title!

SOFTBALL LEAGUE GROWS TO 11 TEAMS

The Men's Softball League will open its season next week and with 11 teams competing in the league it looks like a very interesting summer ahead for softball fans. Mike's Gym-Hickman Moving should win the league without much trouble; however, the rest of the league appears balanced and it could be a real dogfight for spots 2-4. Two Opp teams will be in the league this year and both will be highly competitive, while the Elba teams have been practicing for weeks and seem ready to go. Get ready folks, softball season is here!

Tigers rip Luverne 13-3

The Elba Tigers evened their Area 3 record at 2-2 last Tuesday afternoon with an impressive 13-3 win over the Luverne Tigers, at Luverne.

The Tigers started the game with a bang when Leon Coleman led off with a double and Stevie Sauls reached on a walk, then grabbed a quick 1-0 lead on an RBI single by Jay Grider.

A two-out walk to Wade Hart loaded the bases for the Tigers and sophomore Shane Blanton followed with the biggest hit of his brief high school career as he blasted a grand-slam home-run to up the Elba lead to 5-0!

A walk to David Rowe and a double by Kevin Matthews resulted in yet another Tiger run and by the end of the opening inning Elba was in command with a 6-0 advantage.

Elba picked up in the second inning where it had left off as Jay Grider opened the inning with a double and then trotted home on a home-run by Chris Thomas. A walk to Wade Hart with one out kept the early uprising alive and when David Rowe followed with a two-out single, the Tigers had runners on first and third. Kevin Matthews came through with a two-out double to knock in both Rowe and Hart and after two innings of play the Tigers had opened up a whopping 10-0 lead.

Luverne was down, but not about to quit, and plated one run in the bottom of the second and two more runs in the third as the Elba lead was chopped to 10-3.

The lead was still at 10-3 heading into the top of the fifth, but the Tigers came through with a pair of runs to silence the Luverne rally.

A lead off triple by David Rowe started the Elba rally and Rowe quickly scored on a fielders' choice off the bat of Kevin Matthews. An RBI double by Stevie Sauls with one out knocked in Leon Coleman and the Tigers had extended their lead to 12-3.

A sacrifice fly by Shane Blanton drove in Matt Henderson in the top of the sixth to make the score 13-3 and the Tigers held on in the bottom of the inning to take the 13-3 win.

Jay Grider, David Rowe and Kevin Matthews all got 2 hits for the Tigers, while Leon Coleman tossed a 2-hitter and struck out four batters.

Enterprise takes advantage of 9 errors to clobber Tigers 11-1

The Elba Tigers saw their recent winning ways come to an abrupt end Thursday night when they journeyed to Enterprise and suffered a lopsided 11-1 loss to the 6A Wildcats.

Consecutive singles by Jay Grider, Chris Thomas and Matt Henderson got the Tigers on the scoreboard in the sixth, but it was way too little, way too late, as Enterprise added a run in the bottom of the sixth to wrap up the 11-1 win.

Enterprise combined two walks with an error to score a run in the first inning, only to see the Tigers in the top of the second to pull even at 1-1.

Ten Alabama high school juniors, including Brantley's Chad Carpenter, have been named finalists for state honors in the "Dreamers and Doers" program co-sponsored by Walt Disney World and the National Federation of State High School Associations.

The program recognizes students for their involvement in inter-scholastic activity programs and demonstration of four specific characteristics - curiosity, confidence, courage and constancy (the 4 C's).

A statewide committee named by the Alabama High School Athletic Association will select a state champion. The committee will select a state champion from the field of ten finalists, which includes five males and five females.

The cornerstone of the program are the "4 C's," character traits particularly admired by Walt Disney. A student does not necessarily have to excel in scholastic activities. Rather, students may be honored because they always try!

The students selected Alabama State "Dreamer and Doer" will attend an expense-paid, multi-day educational event on August 16-18 at Walt Disney World Resort, in Orlando.

Enterprise combined two walks with an error to score a run in the first inning, only to see the Tigers in the top of the second to pull even at 1-1.

11 teams to compete when men's softball league opens Monday in Elba

The Men's Softball League will open its season on Monday night, April 24, at the Hawkins-Williams Recreation Park, in Elba, and this season the league will be the biggest in years with a total of 11 teams competing.

Mike's Gym-Hickman Moving will be the heavy favorite to take their third straight crown and the city's only Class A squad could once again be a threat to post an undefeated record. The team is led by the "Johnson Clan" of Van, Greg, Glen and Jason Johnson, while other big sticks on the team include Mike Camley, John Tucker and Tim Williamson.

Flack-Haney Timber, formerly known as the Elba Merchants, won the District Class D title a year ago and opened the season this year with a tournament win in Sanson. The Timbermen are led by Nip Ammons and also boast such solid players as David Suley, Wayne Jackson, David Ammons and Danny Baxley.

The Red Brahma, known as the City Merchants for many years, will once again be one of the top teams in the district in Class D circles and will be one of the favorites to fight for a spot in the league's Top 3 behind the play of Ted Smart, Mike McKee, Doyle Smart, Mike Farris and Danny Sanders.

Work Release will return after a year's absence and while the men from the center haven't won many games during their years in the league, a new year will bring renewed confidence and this could be the year Work Release makes its mark.

The Peoples Bank will return to the league after a long absence and could be a team to watch with such players as Buddy Clark, Joey Holley and a host of young players.

Sportsman's Paradise, known in the past as Cook Chevrolet, will be hunting another league trophy and has to be one of the favorites to place high in the standings. The club will be led by Rhet McColough and should be a team to watch.

Waldon's Painting competed as a tournament team only a year ago, but this year has joined the league and will bring to the action a team loaded with speed and enthusiasm.

The Shiloh Club will be another new team in the league, and led by veteran player James Simmons, this bunch of young players will not doubt get better and better as the season rolls along.

Claxton Corner will be back this year and is expected to once again be one of the most exciting teams in the league. The team will be composed of young players who have played together for the past three years and this may be their year.

Food Services will be in the league for the first time, and the squad, led by Albert Daniels, will be somewhat of an unknown factor in early season play.

The Opp Merchants will bring their act to town this season and while it's not known just what the Merchants will bring, many believe the Merchants will be one of the top teams in the league.

League games will be played on two fields on Monday nights, with games at 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30 on one field and 7:30 and 8:30 on a second field. Tuesday nights will be later games on one field, with games set for 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30.

News From The County Extension Office

Preparing Chicken

Chicken is a favorite food for many people, but you must handle and prepare it carefully to avoid possible contamination or spoilage. These tips may help.

After trimming and cutting up chicken, wash it thoroughly. Then dispose of waste and sanitize the work surface to help eliminate bacteria transferred to chicken from the work surfaces.

Don't use wooden cutting surfaces, because they're the perfect breeding area for bacteria, and are a common cause of cross-contamination.

Also, don't put cooked chicken on a plate that has held raw chicken unless the plate has been washed thoroughly first.

Never interrupt the cooking process. Always cook chicken to an internal temperature of 180 degrees F., and reheat leftovers to 165 degrees F. Finally, keep prepared chicken warmer than 140 degrees F. or cooler than 45 degrees F., because bacteria thrive between these temperatures.

Starchy Foods
Being on a diet doesn't necessarily mean cutting down on starches.

You need starches in your diet for a number of reasons.

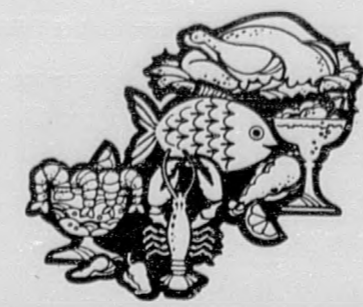

For one thing, starchy foods can help you cut down on saturated fats and cholesterol. Replacing some of the meat and high fat dairy products in your diet with starchy foods such as grains, potatoes, breads and noodles will reduce the total amount of saturated fats and cholesterol you eat.

Starchy foods without the "extras" can help you cut down on calories. An ounce of fat has twice the amount of calories as an ounce of carbohydrate.

Many starchy foods, such as whole grains and potatoes with skin, are good sources of fiber and some essential vitamins and minerals. Starchy foods also provide the calories your body needs for energy without the extra fat and cost of many protein foods such as high fat dairy products and meat.

In addition, starchy foods can save you money. Meats and other foods high in animal protein take up a large portion of your food dollar. High carbohydrate foods can extend meat dishes. For example, you could serve a small amount of chicken with vegetables over rice. You can also use meat as a side dish instead of a main dish.

Commission discusses construction plans

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, April 24, at the courthouse in Enterprise and after much discussion agreed to send out invitations to bid to area contractors on the construction of a new county health department, in Enterprise.

The commission had earlier discussed the possibility of having John Flowers, the county's maintenance engineer, oversee the project in an attempt to cut back on expenses, and promised to make a decision at Monday's meeting.

At the meeting this week, Comm. Sid Averett stated that he had always been in favor of having the building constructed by a contractor and paying for the building when the commission was handed the keys.

"I have always contended that the best method is to bid the entire project," said Averett, "and by doing it we can have someone to point a finger at if something is wrong. If the county acts as the contractor and then sub-lets the various areas of construction, we will be responsible if something goes wrong or the project goes over budget."

Comm. chairman Billy Eagerton reported "I've felt all along that the county should be the contractor in the project and then sub-contract certain areas to save money. We have the people to handle the supervision and we could cut out the profit an outside contractor would receive."

John Flowers told the commission there were good points on both sides of the argument, but did state "It wouldn't be any problem to construct the building as drawn."

"It wouldn't be any problem to construct the building as drawn" John Flowers

Architect Don Bowden reported that while Flowers had experience in construction, the county maintenance engineer was not familiar with the construction of buildings like the one in question and reminded the commissioners that the project could tie down Flowers as long as 8-10 months.

The defense and prosecuting attorneys chances to discuss mitigating and aggravating circumstances that existed in the case. The jury then convicted Simmons recommended "life without parole" following the trial; however,

New Brockton pageants set for Friday night

The Miss and Little Miss New Brockton beauty pageants will be held on Friday night, April 28, at 7:00 p.m. at the New Brockton High School auditorium. Admission to the pageant will be $2 per person.

Comm. Robert Stephens stated "My concern has always been how much the thing is going to cost. I have contacted people at the state and was told the savings for the county as far as not paying sales tax on construction materials was not as great as we expected. I want to save money too, but we can save money by cutting 2,000 square feet out of the building."

"We can save money by cutting 2,000 square feet out of the building" Comm. Robert Stephens Comm. Jim Dubose suggested allowing Flowers to work up a price for which the county could construct the building, using materials purchased by the commission and county labor, and then comparing the price to the bids received. Stephens stated that the landowners had agreed to let the commission condemn the small strip of property to assure the county would get a clear deed to the land, then the appraised value of the land, which is $2,200.

The commission has earmarked a small portion of the sales tax to be held in a special fund for the jail and the money to buy the land would come from the fund.

The commission agreed to begin condemnation proceedings, but told Stephens to see what the landowners would want for a small piece of land near the property to be purchased.

While on the subject of the jail, Comm. Eagerton reported he had met with state corrections officials and the officials had given their approval to a plan to build a dormitory-style facility adjacent to the existing jail in Elba.

Eagerton stated the facility was the type being constructed by the state and that a building to house 60-75 prisoners would cost approximately $60,000.

The lack of space at the area was a concern of the commission; however, the plan drew no opposition.

Changes in policy have saved over 50,000 gallons of fuel annually

Coffee County engineer Mark Pool reported at a recent meeting of the Coffee County Commission that changes over the past three years concerning the consumption of fuel in the county had resulted in savings of over 50,000 gallons of fuel per year.

Pool presented the commissioners with a chart that showed the fuel consumption in 1985 was in excess of 140,000, compared to 110,000 in 1987 and 91,000 in 1988.

Changes during the past three years have included the removal of fuel tanks from the districts, the publication of a monthly consumption report and the implementation of a "key lock" system at the fuel pumps located at the county shop at New Brockton. In the new system, all fuel is charged out to a specific vehicle by computer, giving the commission a detailed report of just how much fuel is being used by every county vehicle.

Pool was quick to give the commission credit for the savings and said "Without the help of the commission my plans would have never been able to get off the ground and the fuel usage would still be out of this world."

Mosquito problems discussed at Monday meeting of city council

Mosquitos described as "big enough to tote you off" were discussed at Monday night's meeting of the Elba City Council.

Councilman Eddie Vaughan told the council that the mosquito problem in the city was "terrible" and questioned if the chemical used by the city was doing its job in helping rid the town of the dreaded insect.

Mayor Fred Moore assured all the council members that the chemical used by the city's spraying truck was the best available and would do the job, prompting several members to be impressed and the chemical's dosage be increased.

It was agreed that until the problem was existing could be controlled, the truck would increase its hours of operation and attempt to spray the chemical in all areas of the city.

Councilman Waylon Sharpless remarked that if the spraying would be done later in the day and more lights be placed on the vehicle.

"It causes a distinct traffic problem when a vehicle gets behind the truck," said Sharpless, "and by spraying later in the day there would be less traffic."

The council discussed the possibility of changing the spraying times and the need for additional lights and asked the mayor to try to work out the problems.

Police Chief Freddie Hanchey reported to the council that during the past two weeks the police department had investigated 122 complaints and three traffic accidents.

Hanchey also stated that 18 animals had been impounded and informed the council that two rabid animals had been killed in the city.

City Clerk Pat Brouse reported on the status of the city's ordinance concerning abandoned vehicles and stated that as soon as owners of the vehicles in violation of the ordinance could be verified, letters would be mailed, giving the owners a deadline to take appropriate action.

Council member Gladys Yelverton asked the mayor if any work had been done on planned improvements at the Mulberry Heights park and was told that work had been completed on the pool, while other repairs would begin this week.

Mayor Moore told Mrs. Yelverton that improvements would be made to the ballfield, basketball courts, kiddie area and general grounds at the park.

Councilman Randy Bedsole told of complaints he had received concerning parking around the square.

Bedsole reported that when the street on the south side of the square was resurfaced, the contractor changed the striping for parking and that it was now a major problem when large vehicles met approaching vehicles.

The mayor stated he had already contacted state officials and had been told the contractor would return to discuss the problem.

In other action at Monday night's meeting, the council: ***approved the minutes of the previous meeting; ***was told the drainage improvement project in the city would begin within a matter of weeks; ***was informed of recent repairs to roads within the city; ***and, agreed to discuss the city's sewer system in depth at its next regular meeting on May 8.

Elba residents are reminded that vaccinations are required by law

Elba Police Chief Freddie Hanchey reported this week that all pet owners should have their pets vaccinated as soon as possible to help prevent an outbreak of rabies in the city.

"The recent cases of rabies reported in Elba is reason enough for pet owners to have their animals vaccinated," stated Chief Hanchey, "and another, even better reason, is that all pet owners are required by law to keep their animals' vaccinations up to date and failure to comply is a misdemeanor. We aren't threatening anyone, we are simply encouraging everyone to have their pets vaccinated as soon as possible and keep the vaccinations current."

Bridge work to close Herman Driggers Drive

Coffee County Engineer Mark Pool announced this week that Herman Driggers Drive would be closed to thru traffic beginning May 1 for a period of one to three months.

Financing for Pea River project is available

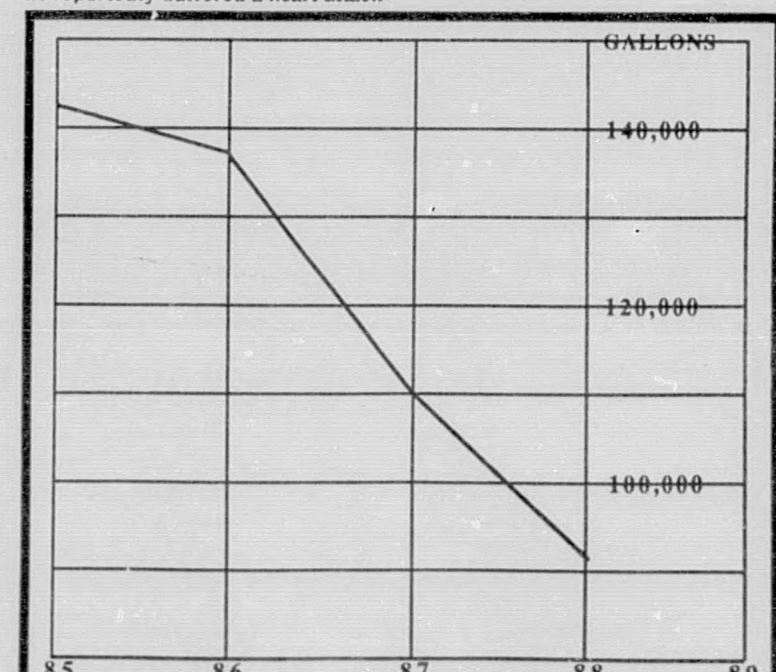

State Senator Foy Covington reported last week that the legislature had left $200,000 intact as conditional appropriations in the 1989-90 General Fund budget for the Chatahoochee-Pea River Project. Sen. Covington reported that the funds are conditional on the fact they are in the budget for dispersal.

Sen. Covington also reported that the lake and dam to be built in a three-county area could become a 10,000 acre impoundment.
